

American Messaging Services, LLC acquires JSM Telepage.

LEWISVILLE, TX – January 29, 2015 - American Messaging Services, LLC is pleased to announce it has acquired the paging assets of JSM Telepage located in Sheboygan Falls, Wisconsin.

Together, the JSM network and the American Messaging network will offer customers the largest wide area paging system in the state of Wisconsin. American Messaging and JSM share the same mission and values associated with providing dependable critical messaging services to primarily healthcare and first responder customers. The JSM customer base will also benefit from the advanced suite of secure healthcare communication products provided by American Messaging.

Dave Andersen, President and Chief Operating Officer for American Messaging commented, "We enjoyed working with JSM to construct a transaction that provides incremental value for both parties. Most importantly, a deal that allows JSM customers to benefit from investments American Messaging is making to improve paging network reliability along with new secure healthcare communication technology."
